4. U-2 REQUIREMENTS FOR CALENDAR YEAR 60-61 - A study of U-2 requirements for Calendar Year 1960-1961 has been prepared by the Operations Branch. It covers all phases of the CHALICE program and takes into consideration requirements of all branches--Materiel, Admin and Development.

5. COMMUNICATIONS DIFFICULTIES - DET C STAGING - [Redacted] reported that [Redacted] was on the air six hours after landing at the staging base. This is considered a normal time to activate. However, since then, problems have been encountered and the field is using a one-time pad system which requires the continuous monitoring of groups in order to avoid extraneous traffic. In answer to Col. Burke's query, [Redacted] indicated that the two [Redacted] brought in by the staging party were apparently inoperative but he did not know the exact cause. Col. Burke stressed that this crypto equipment had presumably been certified as in working condition prior to the staging and that some explanation should be sought from Detachment C at Atsugi.

It was also noted that the Finance Section, operating with a much smaller staff than required. Two vacancies have existed in the Branch for some time, one as long as a year, and last week an additional finance officer was lost due to his transfer to Detachment C. One of the places will be taken by the returnee from Detachment C. Col. Development Branch, Materiel Branch and Administrative Branch completed initial drafts and assured that final papers would be submitted to [] by the deadline.

Recommendations - [redacted] reviewed the situation now existing at [redacted] as a result of the tour completions of [redacted] both currently on extensions and both expect to be retired from the Air Force in the near future, [redacted] in July 1961 and [redacted] in January 1963. The question resolves itself into whether or not the Project wants to request additional extensions which in [redacted] case, for example, would be a total of 7 years with CIA, longer than any previous military personnel. [redacted] explained that any consideration must take into account the fact that the Air Force/CIA agreement relative to CHALICE was that a normal tour would be 5 years with possible extension of one year, provided the two units, pl
the man, agree. He indicated that extensions to 5 years were rare.
The problem in the present cases is whether or not DPD, due to circumstances, would wish to bend the policy of long extended tours.

recommends that in view of the experience of the two captains, and the fact that there would be less than full tours remaining on any Air Force assignment it would be in the interest of not only the Agency but the Government to keep them at their present duties. [redacted] indicated that another reason for keeping them at [redacted] is the fact that both have indicated a desire to convert to civilian status with the Agency upon retirement.

Col. Burke pointed out that it was not until this week that he was made aware of the [redacted] situation and referred to the fact that a previous published directive regarding Air Force personnel had stressed that all recruitments and all replacements should be referred through him to Col. Geary and should not be the subject of unilateral branch action. It was further indicated that a replacement for [redacted] had been nominated by Col. Geary's office as far back as November and that Materiel Branch had rejected the candidate without Col. Burke being made aware of the situation. Col. Burke indicated he agreed with [redacted] recommendation and that upon the return of Col. Geary the two cases would be discussed. [redacted] pointed out that it has been the practice to decide each case of extension on its merits and he would reserve comment in the instant cases until the return of Col. Geary.
